

MAINE BEER COMPANY USES CLEAN POWER BECAUSE IT'S THE RIGHT THING TO DO.

"Before we brewed our first bottle of beer, we told ourselves that if we couldn't do things right, we wouldn't do them at all. That's why we are a 100% green power brewery."

Dan & David Kleban, co-founders

Tackling climate change, expanding Maine jobs

Natural Resources
Council of Maine

DID YOU KNOW?

Natural Resources
Council of Maine

Maine was a leader in forming the Regional Greenhouse Gas Initiative (RGGI), working in partnership with other states to grow our economy while reducing power plant carbon pollution that causes climate change. RGGI is so effective that the EPA has acknowledged it as a model for the rest of the nation.

Maine and 20 other states are already on track to meet the Clean Power Plan's 2022 benchmarks.

*Alaska, Hawaii, and Vermont have no obligations under the Clean Power Plan.

Maine is a Climate Leader - We're Ready for the Clean Power Plan

Source: Union of Concerned Scientists, 2015. www.ucsusa.org/statesofprogress