

GREAT FALLS FORUM 2019-2020

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 17, 2019

The Ecology and Economy of Recycling

The 2019-2020 season of the Great Falls Forum continues on Thursday, October 17th, with a panel discussion on “The Ecology and Economy of Recycling,” featuring Julie Rosenbach, Sustainability Director for the City of South Portland; Sarah Lakeman, Sustainable Maine Project Director, National Resources Council of Maine; and Kevin Roche, CEO of ecomaine.

The discussion will be moderated by Lindsay Tice, Staff Writer with the Sun Journal. The program will take place from 12 noon to 1 PM in Callahan Hall at the Lewiston Public Library.

In this Great Falls Forum panel, participants will share an overview of their work as it relates to the issues surrounding recycling in Maine and beyond. The moderator will ask questions, followed by time for questions from the audience.

This Forum program will take place from 12 noon to 1 PM in Callahan Hall at the Lewiston Public Library, 200 Lisbon Street. Admission is free. This is a brown-bag, bring your own lunch event. Coffee, tea and water will be available. For more information on the Great Falls Forum, consult the Library’s website at www.LPLonline.org or call 513-3135.
