

Measures to Support Accessibility

The Natural Resources Council of Maine is committed to ensuring our website is accessible to persons with disabilities, including, but not limited to, visitors using screen reader software and other assistive technology. As such, NRCM takes the following measures to ensure accessibility of our website:

- Includes accessibility throughout our internal policies.
- Employs formal accessibility quality assurance methods.

Conformance Status

A website such as ours is constantly evolving, and our efforts to improve the usability of our website are ongoing. The Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG) defines requirements for designers and developers to improve accessibility for people with disabilities. It defines three levels of conformance: Level A, Level AA, and Level AAA. We take accessibility seriously and we are working to make sure our website is accessible, utilizing WCAG 2.1 level AA as a guide.

Feedback

We welcome your feedback on the accessibility of the NRCM website. Please let us know if you experience any difficulty accessing any part of this website, you have specific questions or concerns about the accessibility of any particular web page, or you otherwise need help.
